Documounts Mats

The Presentation Pack

This sample Robert Burridge's Documounts package of a mat, backboard and clear bag is exactly what I use for all my galleries and outdoor art festivals. The quality and price is the best deal in the industry. I have purchased thousands of these custom-cut mats for over ten years and found Documounts to be the friendliest, quickest, most professional art suppliers anywhere! I buy these impeccably cut mats in packs of one hundred for the best savings.

My small 5"x7" paintings are mounted with a strip of artists' tape across the top back of the painting, onto the back of the mat. This, along with the back board, easily slips into the clear, self-sealing bag-- and takes less than a minute to assemble.

My larger paintings are all standard sizes and, of course, the mats and back boards are available through Documounts. I use three standard mat sizes: 11"x14", 16"x20" and 32"x40" to accommodate my three standard paper image sizes: 5"x7", 11"x15" and 22"x30". I order the ph neutral Crescent Papermat Matboard because they are the most cost effective, although not archival, they will prevent damage to my artwork for several years. They are low cost and make a great presentation at outdoor art festivals.

For a permanent conservation quality mat, I use their Alphamats - a top quality mat at a slightly higher price.

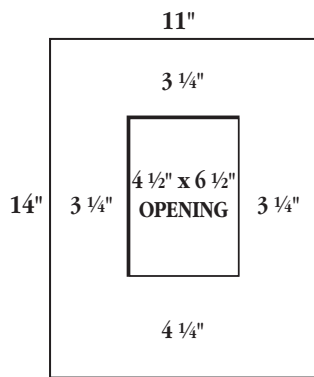

Many off-white colors are available. Below are my typical mat sizes and dropout dimensions for my standard size painting images. Please feel free to order the same sizes for yourself. Make your own adjustments to accommodate either vertical or horizontal images. The mats I order are Arctic White, #C3297. My mats are all custom cut and bottom weighted (Museum mount). I order a standard 1/8" foamboard backing. To protect my artwork at Festivals, I order Documounts 11"x14" and 16"x20" Clear as Crystal resealable bags.

The whole package is a professional presentation at a very affordable price. Their catalog has everything you need, including frames, for the do-it-yourself artist.
